PARKER'S CHANCES

Seem to Be Very Bright For Success.

Can Only Be Defeated by an Organized Combination.

New York, June 29.--With the St. Louis convention less than a week off, statisticians are busy, most of them giving Parker the best of it. All agree that there are many doubtful States and that the votes from these States would be sufficient to determine the result, but the Parker men find much comfort in their figuring.

They claim 518 on the first ballot, and were willing to concede Hearst only 209. Not counting Puerto Rico, the admission of whose delegation is uncertain, it takes 664 to nominate.

There are 288 delegates instructed for Parker, but his strength is by no means indicated by this figure, as in many of the Southern States where it is not customary to instruct, there is a strong Parker sentiment. This is admitted even by the Hearst forces.

The full vote for 994 delegates is accounted for as follows:

Recapitulation.

Instructed for Parker..... 288

Uninstructed and claimed by Parker..... 230

Instructed for Hearst..... 100

Uninstructed and allowed to Hearst..... 46

Total allowed Hearst..... 209

Instructed for favorite sons..... 116

Uninstructed and doubtful..... 151

MRS. HOWARD STOWE

Succumbs to Consumption After Long Illness.

Mrs. Mary Manson Stowe, wife of Mr. G. Howard Stowe, of Julien, died at her home in the county Wednesday midnight. She had been sick for a year or more with tuberculosis.

Last August, in the hope of curing the disease, she spent two months in the mountains of Colorado and from there went to El Paso, Tex., where she spent the winter. She returned home early in May hopelessly ill, and quietly awaited the end.

Mrs. Stowe was about 30 years of age. She was married three and a half years ago, being Mr. Stowe's second wife. She was formerly Miss Mary Manson, of Clarksville, and was a young woman of most estimable character, possessing many lovable qualities of mind and heart that endeared her to all who knew her. She was a member of the Methodist church. The funeral services will be held this morning at the family residence at 9 o'clock, and the interment will be in the family burying grounds near by.

TEN DAYS' MEETING

At Carvoso Camp Grounds Will Commence Aug. 11.

The camping at Carvoso camp grounds, in Todd county, will commence August 11, and continue ten days. The meeting will be conducted by the Rev. J. O. McClurkan, of Nashville, and other workers. Several from this city and county will attend.

Taylor-Barker.

Mrs. Sadie D. Jesup, widow of the late Barker Jesup, and Mr. Hancock Taylor, Jr., of Louisville, were married in the latter city last Saturday. Mrs. Jesup resides in this city, on South Virginia street, but it is presumed she and her husband will make their future home in Louisville.

LOCALS LOST

Two Games and Took One Here This Week.

Rank Decisions Largely Responsible For The Result Of The Games With Henderson.

The local team put up a fine article of ball here with Henderson this week, but lost two of the series of three games. The result was due largely to numerous rank decisions by Umpire Shuster against the locals. The first game, played Monday, resulted in a score of 9 to 1 in favor of Henderson. This was a good game up to the fifth inning, the score at that stage being 3 to 1 in favor of the visitors.

In the last half of the fifth Welch hit the ball to left field and a foot or more inside the foul line. The bases were all full and the hit was good for three and maybe four scores for Hopkinsville, but the Umpire called it a foul and all the men were sent back.

This and other decisions of the same kind, knocked all interest out of the game.

Tuesday's game was won by Henderson by the score of 4 to 1. The contest up to the ninth inning, was one of the most interesting ever witnessed on the local diamond. Hopkinsville scored one in the second inning, while Henderson failed to land a man across the home plate until the ninth, when they made four scores.

Bomar pitched for the locals and for the first six innings the Hens were unable to get a hit off him. He pitched a fine game throughout and Hopkinsville should have won.

The game Wednesday was a good exhibition of ball playing and the contest was won by Hopkinsville, the score being 7 to 4 in favor of the locals. In the first four innings Henderson failed to score, but in the fifth they made one run. In the sixth, seventh and eighth they got only goose eggs, but in the ninth they succeeded in getting three men across the plate. Hopkinsville made a run in the first, one in the second and four in the third. The locals made another score in the eighth, thus footing up seven, while the visitors only had four runs to their credit. As Henderson was first at the bat in the opening of the game the last half of the ninth inning was not played.

Morris pitched for the locals and put up an excellent game. In the third inning with one man on base, Morris knocked the ball over the right field fence making a home run. Hopkinsville made eleven hits and only two errors, while Henderson got only seven hits and made three errors.

Monday's game at Paducah between the Paduies and Cairoites was a ten-inning contest. Cairo won, the score being 7 to 5. The game scheduled for Monday at Clarksville between Vincennes and the Tennesseans was postponed on account of rain.

Rain again Tuesday prevented the contest at Clarksville. At Paducah Tuesday Cairo lost to Paducah, the score being 6 to 5.

Wednesday---at Clarksville a double-header was played between the Tennesseans and Vincennes. The Indians lost both games. The score in the first contest was 2 to 1, and in the second 6 to 1.

The game at Paducah Wednesday was lost to Cairo by the score of 4 to 3.

The Hopkinsville team went to Vincennes Wednesday night and the first game of a series of three, at that place was played yesterday. The games scheduled here for July 3, 4 and 5 between the locals and Egyptians have been transferred to Cairo, with a double-header Monday. The next series to be pulled off here will be between Paducah and Hopkinsville, July 6, 7 and 8. Piepho has been elected captain

INDICTED IN HASTE.

Benton, Ky., June 28.--A sensation has developed in the case of Sheriff L. Walter Holland, for killing Hardy Keys at Murray, and which was sent on a charge of venue to this county and called in the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon before Special Judge Eli H. Brown, of Owensboro. Unusual developments of last evening were followed by almost equally interesting proceedings today.

In the court yesterday afternoon the prosecution sprang a surprise by moving to dismiss the Calloway indictment, charging Holland with manslaughter, and to submit the case to the Marshall county grand jury then in session. The defense objected but Special Judge Brown sustained the prosecution's motion and the Cook indictment was dismissed. The case was given to the grand jury and after it retired the defense moved to dismiss the present grand jury and empanel a new one. While the motion was being made and within two or three minutes after the grand jury retired, that body returned with a new indictment charging Holland with wilful murder.

Such quick action was a surprise to the defending lawyers, but they soon had information that the new indictment was practically found as the result of hearing witnesses last Thursday, before the trial began, and was written and signed before the manslaughter indictment was dismissed.

The defense promptly objected to the indictment and insisted on a new grand jury. Judge Brown overruled the defense and adjourned court until this morning.

After court opened today he asked the lawyers if they were ready for trial. The prosecution announced ready, but the defense moved to dismiss the new indictment on the ground that the proceedings were irregular in the extreme. This motion was overruled and Holland's lawyers then asked for a continuance and it was granted until the fourth Monday in September.

The prosecution argued against the motion for a continuance, trying to force the defendant into trial, but strong and sufficient reasons were set up for a continuance.

Of twenty-five candidates for entrance to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, only eleven were able to pass the physical examination, after successfully meeting the mental requirements.

DOWN THE MESA TO SCHOOL

Curious Sight Presented by the Children of the Moqui Indian Tribe.

If we stood about seven o'clock in the morning near the foot of the Oraibi mesa in Arizona we should see a most interesting sight, relates a writer in the New York Sun.

The flat-topped elevations called mesas are very common features of the arid plains of Arizona. Some of them have for ages been the homes of Indian tribes whose enemies could not easily reach the tops of these big rocks, and so those who lived on them were comparatively safe.

This particular mesa is the home of the Oraibi branch of the Moqui tribe. Perched high in the air on their little plateau, the elders still practice the snake dance and other famous rites of their fathers.

Only a few years ago they were called hostile because they opposed more strenuously than the other Moquis the introduction of white influences among them. When it was proposed to erect a schoolhouse near the base of the mesa, and to place all the children in the school, the parents stubbornly refusing to permit it. They yielded finally, however, to firm pressure, and every child of school age was placed in the school.

The enterprise has been a great success, and whoever stands near the school at seven o'clock in the morning and looks up at the plateau 500 feet above him suddenly sees children begin to spill over the edge of the mesa. One child comes into view behind another, and soon the face of the great rock is alive with them as they descend the steep zigzag path leading to the bottom of the mesa and the school.

The sight interests visitors because it is so unusual. The little folk seem to be hanging to the wall of the mighty rock as they slowly descend its face.

They keep pouring over the edge and the head of the line has reached the school on the plain before the last of it leaves the top of the mesa. When the straggling line comes fully into view it is seen to be nearly half a mile long, and its convolutions on the path bear some resemblance to the movements of a snake.

There are 175 children in this school, and in attendance it is said to head the list of Indian day schools in the country. A line-new building costing over $3,000 has taken the place of the first school, and it is said that after once being placed there, wearing the new clothes provided for every pupil, they never miss a day.

Largest Stone Arch Bridge.

In spite of mammoth steel arch, girder and cantilever bridges, the stone arch bridge is still employed under certain conditions, and the largest structure of this kind in the world is now in course of construction at Plaquemine, La. This bridge will have a span of 235 feet, exceeding by 25 feet the famous Luxembourg bridge opened last year, and by still more the Morbegno bridge in Lombardy and the Galien Gault bridge near Washington, D. C., which have held in turn the record as the longest stone arch bridges. The Plaquemine bridge differs from the Luxembourg bridge in being of masonry throughout, instead of consisting of two parallel arches connected by iron and concrete. Its cost is estimated at about $120,000.—Chicago Chronicle.

Plymouth Landmarks.

The landmarks, which draw an ever-lengthening procession of visitors to Plymouth, are all within the compass of an hour's ramble. North street, running parallel with Leyden, leads to Plymouth rock, formerly on the water's edge, but now several rods from the shore, and shielded by a granite canopy. Close by are Pilgrim wharf and Cole's hill, where the first houses of the colonists were set up, and where were buried those who died in the first disastrous winter, the ground above their graves being plowed and sown by the survivors, in order to conceal from the Indians the large number who had fallen.—Criterion.

WINE FROM DRIED APPLES.

Method of Consumption Invented by the French Takes Much of American Surplus.

Before the apple orchards were so large and so widely scattered the evaporation of the surplus fruit furnished a profitable outlet, but as the acreage in apple trees increased, says the New York Commercial, the waste of apples became so numerous that ordinary domestic consumption processes were not enough to absorb the surplus. Exporters introduced American evaporated apples abroad, with the result that a good trade was established, especially in Germany and France. According to the statements of a number of exporters this trade is growing. American evaporated apples are used in Germany much as fresh apples are used here.

French purchasers have invented a method of consumption which is supplying an important outlet for the American surplus. A kind of wine is made from the apples which is utilized freely as a substitute for native French wines when the latter run short. It is said upon good authority that when the American evaporated apple has been treated by the thrifty French manipulator, it becomes champagne. Whether the French champagne which comes to this country in such liberal quantities is merely transformed American evaporated apples or not is uncertain, but in the year of shortage in the vineyards some of it is. Other European countries are reported to be utilizing American apples in much the same way.

SOME GREAT SEA DISASTERS

Many Big Naval Vessels Have Gone Down with Their Hundreds of Men on Board.

Loss of the Russian flagship Petrovsk at Port Arthur, with Admiral Makarov and a diminished strength of nearly 800 officers and men, while a severe blow to Russian prestige in the far east, is one of those catastrophes in naval warfare, says the Chicago News, to which an actual combatant is "always liable, though happily their occurrence is not common. In 1759, when "Hawke did bang Monsieur Conflans" at Quiberon bay, Sir Edward Hawke ordered his pilot to lay the Royal George, of 100 guns, alongside the Soleil Royal, the French admiral's flagship. Before this could be done another French ship, La Superbe, of 70 guns, gallantly interposed, and, receiving her opponent's broadside, went down into the deep with her colors flying and 650 souls on board. Her revenge, however, came on August 28, 1782, when the Royal George sunk at harbor off Spithead in a squall.

During a great storm in 1703 12 men of the Swallow were blown off the British coast with 1,800 men. Many lives were lost when the British warship Ajax took fire in 1807. The British warship Captain turned over in the Bay of Biscay in 1870, about 500 lives being lost. When the Sultan, the sister ship of the Captain, was fitting out at Portsmouth a grim humorist, prophesying her possible fate (happily he proved to be wrong, chalked on her side: "Will leave on Thursday with mails for the Captain").

The fate of the Italian warship Re d'Italia at the battle of Lissa, the one great fight that has yet taken place between armored hostile fleets in European waters, should be mentioned. It was on July 20, 1866, that the Austrian Admiral Tegethoff fought Persano's fleet and the flagship Persano sent her opponent down with 600 men on board, the Italian ironclad Palestro also blowing up, about a score of lives only being saved.

Fearful loss of life was occasioned by the ramming of the British warship Victoria in maneuvers by the Camperdown (1893), when over 350 officers and men, including Admiral Tryon, were drowned.

ABYSSINIAN WOMEN'S DRESS

Get Themselves Up in Apparel That Is Picturesque and Sometimes Gorgeous.

"For downright gorgeousness there is little that can surpass a family party of Abyssinian women bound from one village to another in festival time, notably about Easter, for the Abyssinians are Christians," writes Mr. Broughton Brandenberg, describing the life of the women of Egypt in an article in Panorama—laughers of the Nile.

"A brilliant, hange-adorned head-dress is bound over the brow and drawn back to fall down the shoulders. The upper part of the body is clad in a blouse of red and white literally covered with gold and silver ornaments, that are handed down from generation to generation. A short skirt in the same style comes below the knees, and the legs are encased in brilliant colored stripes wound tightly about like putters, often beaded and spangled. The feet, usually bare, are variously adorned with toe-rings, ankle bracelets, and other ornaments."

Distinguished Dog.

A dog in England has lately been honored by the receipt of an illuminated address, in which he is informed that he is the most successful collector for the Victoria Infirmary at Norwich, and is thanked by the board of managers. The dog is a five-year-old fox-terrier, named Prince. He does not wear a cup or basket or carry one in his mouth, as do most mendicant dogs, but simply sits up on his hind legs and begs. When he receives a coin he goes unbidden and deposits it in a box kept for the purpose. During 1903 he collected more than 2,000 coins. One hopes that if illness or accident ever overtake Prince there may be a warm bed for him at the infirmary, with plenty of good food, steak and dog-biscuit—Youth's Companion.

Scared to Death.

Dr. Francis W. McNamara, of Chicago, says: "Millions of people are made wretched every year or, perhaps, have their lives shortened, by feeling that they have heart disease. They have a pain in that region, and their own diagnosis is sufficient to convince them of the matter. As a matter of fact, there is seldom any pain from heart disease. The trouble is indigestion only. The stomach, lying just under the heart, is distended to a painful degree by gases, and, crowding toward the heart, makes the pain seem to be in that organ." This opinion simply confirms the claim of Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who originated the formula of Syrup Pepsin, the guaranteed cure for indigestion and constipation. All druggists sell it, but be sure to ask for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

ABOUT THE INCAS OF PERU.

Wise and Just Civic Administration Discouraged Crime Among the People.

When the Spanish first invaded Peru the government of the Incas was in a flourishing condition there. It is said to have been the most enlightened despotism that ever existed and about the nearest approach to a Utopia that has yet been reached by any people. There was allotted to each man free of charge a dwelling site and extended area of land for him to cultivate for the maintenance of his family. The surplus of products from this tract, left over from the immediate needs of the owner, was given as a tribute to the Inca government and used for religious, charitable and other purposes at the sovereign city of Cuzco. Under the wise and just civic administration crime and public corruption and theft were not known. In Cuzco a resident with 100 bars of silver and gold piled up in his house left it wide open, only placing a small stick across as a sign that the master was out—and nobody went in.

All the tribe was divided into numerous clans. The powers of administration were centered in the elective dignitaries, a military leader and the head of the religious system. There was also a council of chiefs. None of these offices was hereditary and they could not be occupied by sons unless they were specially chosen for the position. The succession of the chief, if he did not fall upon the shoulders of his child. This was due to the clan organization, which governed the affairs of state. Inheritance was by mother-right. A man could not marry a woman of his own clan, but had to select one from another. This was the main unit for holding the tribe together.

Women had no voice in the public affairs of the tribe, but ruled supreme in the home. She was admitted to enter the society, of which there were many. Women also practiced healing and became priestesses.

Effects of Right-Eyedness.

The majority of men and women, according to Mr. George M. Gould, are not only right handed, but right eyed; that is, the right eye sees better than the left. From this flow some curious results. For instance, right-eyedness explains why, in the development of violin playing, the difficult and rapid fingering was allotted to the less expert left hand, while the easy bowing fell to the dexterous right hand. The reason, as Dr. Gould thinks, is because the ordinary position of the violin is such that the right eye most readily sees the motions and positions of the fingers on the strings. In a similar way the right eye compels the more awkward left hand to direct the gun barrel, while the right has simply to hold the trigger. In chopping, the weaker left arm has to direct and enforce the blow, while the stronger right plays a subordinate part for the convenience of the right eye.—Sci. ence.

In Korean Society.

Good society in Korea has many curious customs. One of these is that widows must not remarry. No widow in the really "smart set" would ever dream of remarrying, however young she may be or however soon the death of her husband may have followed her wedding. Married life in Korea is by no means an unmixing blessing to the woman, so perhaps perpetual widowhood might not be objectionable if it were not for the necessity of perpetually wearing mourning for the departed. This means that during the whole of her life she is limited to blue, black and green as colors for her costumes.

Japanese Christians.

Some of the prominent men of Japan are Christians. To this creed belong one member of the imperial cabinet, two judges of the supreme court, two presidents of the lower house of parliament, three vice ministers of state. In the present parliament the president and 13 members in a total membership of 300 are Christians. In the army there are 145 Christian officers, or about three percent of all, and the two largest battalions are commanded by Christians. In Tokio three of the daily papers have Christian editors.—Argonaut.

The talk of Grover Cleveland for President by the goldbug press is worse than nonsense. The quind would not hold the Democrats who would fail to vote for such a Republican sympathizer as the New Jersey bolter.

Gov. Beckham has called a meeting of the State School Book Commission to be held today in Frankfort to canvass the returns from the counties on the adoption of school books for a period of five years.

That decisive battle that has been "imminent" for a week or more, has not yet been reported from Manchuria. The war news consists of rumors from Tokio and St. Peterburg, colored to suit the senders.

Judge J. C. Pritchard, of North Carolina, has released Edward Josephus Daniels, from the imprisonment sentence imposed last October. Judge Pritchard says the federal judge exceeded his authority.

There will be 10,804 seats in the St. Louis convention, 2,000 of which will be assigned to the delegates and 8,804 to the press. Each delegate will have three tickets besides his own, making 3,000 for the visiting Democrats. The other 5,804 tickets will be used as sold by the Business Men's League.

The eighth district convention was completely deadlocked yesterday and many fruitless ballots had been taken with no change. Helm assisted in electing a Moore chairman and then Gilbert helped Moore to win a contesting delegation in a Helm county. The candidates are so evenly matched that it is anybody's race. Either candidate can name a winner other than himself and all equally confident of ultimate success. The most probable outcome is that Moore will throw his 24 votes to Gilbert, on promises of support next time.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
 By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; none cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Halls Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PASSING OF A BENEFACTOR.

Under the above caption the Chicago Chronicle editorially refers to the death of former Congressman James A. McKenzie, who died in Christian county, last week. He originated the bill to put quinine on the free list, and fought the quinine trust to a finish. The Chronicle says:

"The death of former Congressman James A. McKenzie, of Kentucky, recalls an incident in our innumerable protective war of many many battles.

For years there had been a high duty on quinine—not to raise revenue to carry on the war for the Union or to pay the war debt, or to minister to sufferers from malaria, but to build up the infant industry of manufacturing chemistry, and more especially the firm of Powers & Weightman, of Philadelphia.

Congressman McKenzie was one of those theorists who reject the doctrine that the foreigner pays the tax. He objected to taxing the duty to build up the fortunes of one or two private concerns. He attacked the quinine tariff in a speech which was most convincing, and which attracted world wide attention as the already famous Duluth speech of another distinguished Kentuckian, J. Proctor Knott, and for a like reason.

The firm of Powers & Weightman became alarmed and attempted to answer Mr. McKenzie's speech by bluff, threatening to put up the price still higher if the duty should be taken off.

Mr. McKenzie's wit and arguments prevailed. Congress put quinine on the free list and Powers & Weightman did not put up the price. On the contrary, they put it down about one-half because they could not help themselves. The country had not been frightened at their threat, because they had seen a like threat by the match trust come to naught when Congress repealed the internal revenue tax on matches which was the secure shelter of that trust.

After Mr. McKenzie's triumph no one suffered for lack of quinine. Everybody could afford quinine after the taxes which sheltered it were repealed. The price fell amazingly.

Mr. McKenzie earned the gratitude of age-shaken humanity, but there remains in this country a world of opportunities for other benefactors of this kind in the same general field of philanthropic reforms."

The interment of the remains of the late Hon. Jas. A. McKenzie in the Potter vault at Bowling Green, it transpires, was only temporary, and that the body will be brought to this city for final interment. The Bowling Green News says: "Owing to the suddenness of Mr. McKenzie's death, little time was had to make the funeral arrangements. For this reason the body was brought to this city and placed in the Potter Mausoleum, but at the proper time it will be disinterred and removed to Hopkinsville, where it will be buried."

Mr. Walker D. Chief of Police R. W. Westbrook, assaulted Rev. Lee G. Broughton with a cowhide, as the minister was found seated in a barber's chair being shaved. He struck him several times, before friends of Dr. Broughton interfered. The fight was the outcome of charges preferred against Chief Westbrook in a sermon by Dr. Broughton Sunday in the Chautauqua Auditorium. Dr. Broughton charged that Westbrook was a drunkard, and that he could be found at all hours in the lowest dives of the city. The assault was in a barber shop and attracted a crowd of 500 people and for a while a general fight seemed imminent.

DRAINED TO DEATH.

Mr. Freeman's injuries tried a Fatal Termination.

Mr. R. D. Freeman, of this city, who was injured about the head and face by being dragged by a cow on the 21st inst, died Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Freeman was leading the animal to the pasture, and in some way became entangled by the rope and was thrown to the street and dragged some distance. While he was rendered unconscious and was very badly cut and bruised it was thought that he had a chance for recovery, but a few days ago lockjaw developed, causing his death as above stated.

The deceased was about 55 years old and leaves a family. He had been in the grocery business on First street for several years and was a man liked by every one.

MURDER THEORY.

Police Believe Kent Loomis Was Thrown Overboard by Negro Companion.

Chicago, June 28.—A special cablegram from Paris to the American says that evidence is rapidly accumulating to show that Kent Loomis, brother of the American Association Secretary at St. Louis, was thrown overboard from the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse by the harbor of Plymouth, Eng., because he stood between an American negro and the throne of Abyssinia.

W. H. Ellis, a negro millionaire, formerly of San Antonio, Texas, but more recently of Chicago and New York, is the party who is believed by the detectives to have caused Loomis' death in order to secure the treaty which the latter was carrying to King Menelik of Abyssinia. Ellis, bearing with him the treaty, has sailed from Marseilles for Djibouti, Africa. In person this giant American negro will deliver to Menelik the treaty with the United States, and to the barbarian king, Ellis will be as great as the country which he represents.

London Police Theories.

London, June 28.—The police have abandoned the theory that Kent Loomis landed at either Plymouth or Cherbourg. They are now convinced that he was lost overboard. They have also temporarily abandoned the belief that an accident occurred or that he committed suicide, and are working on the theory that he was murdered.

"NERVOUS AND IRRITABLE." Peru-na is Invaluable to Ailing Women.

Miss Celia Harrington, 211 Second avenue, Detroit, Mich., writes:

"Weakness has filled many months of my life with suffering. Through carelessness I caught a severe cold two years ago which settled in catarrh and seriously interfered with the regular functions of the body, and made me nervous and irritable. I began taking Peru-na and found in it a faithful helper, as it enriched my blood and invigorated the whole system. I have no pain now and am always well."

Peru-na weakness is generally dependent upon catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peru-na cures catarrh, restores blood.

WOODSON-HALDEMAN.

Contest to Be Settled Tuesday at St. Louis.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 30.—The Kentucky delegation to the National Democratic Convention will leave for St. Louis Monday evening over the Henderson road. A large number of Louisville politicians will go along as guests of Mayor Grainger. Gov. Beckham and his party are expected to come to Louisville some time Monday so as to go on this train.

The delegation will probably meet Tuesday for the purpose of electing a National Committeeman and choosing representatives on the various committees. Both Mr. W. B. Haldean and Mr. Grey Woodson, the two candidates for the position, are working hard and are hopeful of success.

STARILING IN NATURE.

Former Member of St. Louis House of Delegates Makes Confession.

St. Louis, June 28.—It was announced today that Charles A. Guttkie, former member of the House of Delegates, convicted on a charge of bribery, and soon to be tried on another similar charge, today made a complete confession to Circuit Attorney Jos. W. Folk, in which he declared that former delegate Chas. T. Kelly had told him he had received $50,000 for going to Europe when his presence in St. Louis jeopardized men of prominence. Kelly is also resting under one conviction and is soon to be tried in another case.

Circuit Attorney Folk attaches great importance to the revelations which have been made by Guttkie. He said that it opened up many new avenues of investigation, and that it brought things to light which have not been heard of before, involving men higher up.

A WOMAN'S BACK.

Aches and Pains Will Disappear
If the Advice of This Hopkinsville Citizen is Followed

A woman's back has many aches and pains.
Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault.
Backache is really kidney ache.
That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Many Hopkinsville women know this.

Read what one has to say about it:

Miss L. A. Hester, of 212 East 4th street says: "To walk for any distance or to cover exert myself in any way, intensified the aching in my back from which I was long time a continual sufferer, and I caught cold it seemed to settle in the same region and made me almost miserable. When rising in the morning I felt stiff and sore, and often found it difficult to dress myself. Another symptom of my complaint was a weakness of the kidneys, which annoyed and distressed me beyond words. I doctored but found little if any relief until I tried Doan's Kidney Pills, which had been strongly recommended to me, and which I procured at Thomas & Traher's drug store.
They did me a vast amount of good.
The pain in my back ceased, the secretions were regulated and my health was improved generally.
The pills perform what they promise in every way.

MAKING NAVAL TESTS.

One in the Nature of Sham Battle Develops Relative Efficacy of Submarine and Searchlight.

In Narragansett bay one evening last there was an elaborate test to determine the usefulness of submarine boats in naval warfare, the purpose being to see if they were less visible at night than surface boats, if they could be navigated successfully and safely in the dark, and if the playing upon them of numerous searchlights hampered their making of observations from their conning towers.

The test, reports the Scientific American, partook of the nature of a sham battle, in which Fort Adams and the torpedo station, with strong searchlights, and large parties of army and navy officers acted as observers, and the tug Peoria, anchored west of the torpedo station and using a powerful searchlight, were opposed to the submarine boats Moccasin, Adair and Plunger, and the surface boats McKee and Morris,
as well as torpedo boat No. 1.

Of the six craft about, the Adair alone lived through the battle, and succeeded in eluding all the watchers and getting into a position so close to the tug Peoria that she could easily have annihilated her. It was, in fact, a clean-cut victory for the Adair, which was in command of Lieut.
Frank L. Pinney. The watchers at Fort Adams picked up with some little difficulty the submarine boats Moccasin and Plunger, and they searched in vain for the Adair.

It was learned that the navigation of submarine boats in the dark was practically able, and that the playing upon them of powerful searchlights did not much hamper their officers in running them or making observations from their conning towers fairly well.
When the light was not playing upon the boats, very good vision could be obtained from the submarines. It was proved that the submarines were less visible in the dark than the surface boats.

BEING MADE OVER AND OVER

A Few Manifestations of the Restorative Powers Belonged by Human Beings.

It takes but four weeks to completely renew the human epidermis. You have new eyelashes every five months, you shed your finger nails in about the same period, and the nails of your toes are entirely renewed annually. The white of an eye, known as the cornea, is in a continual state of renewal, being kept clear and clean by the soft friction of the eyelids.
These, says Nature, are few manifestations of the restorative powers retained by man, who is less fortunate than the lower animals.

Corns can grow from flints;
the small can renew even a large portion of its head; with eyes and feathers birds do not worry about the loss of a tail, and if you make a cut in the caudal appendage of some of these last mentioned creatures they will grow another tail straightway and rejoice in the possession of two.

But man still possesses the wonderful restorative little cells which scientific men call leno-cytes. They are always crawling through the body to renew and to defend the body from its enemies, the harmful bacteria of various maladies. These cells generate antitoxins to kill our enemies.
They do battle for us in hundreds of ways, and yet the majority of us know nothing of these great services rendered by our tiny friends inside.

The Japs in Marco Polo's Day.

The renown of the Japanese for courage was as remarkable in Marco Polo's day as it is in the present.
He narrates the story of an invasion of the country by the forces of the Khan of Tartary. A Japanese army of 20,000 men was besieged in a tower. Refusing to surrender, they fought until all but eight of them were killed. On these eight —travelers' wonders must creep in—it was found impossible to inflict any wound. "Now was this by virtue of certain stones which they had in their arms, inserted between the skin and the flesh. And the charm and virtue of these stones was such that those who were them could never perish by steel." They were therefore beaten to death with clubs.—N. Y.

One Woman

in ten thousand may have the opportunity to indulge her taste for outdoor sports. The nine thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine others must remain shut in to a sort of perpetual slavery, from which there is no escape. It is these shut-in women who suffer most from womanly diseases, and who, when they are cured and made strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, are eager to point the way of health to some other sufferer.

"I do not wonder that you call your medicine the 'Favorite Prescription' after the help it has been to me," writes Miss Bertha Ebbetts, Treasurer 'Young People's Society' of Christian Endeavor, First Presbyterian Church, residing at 1600 East 10th Street, Kansas City, Mo. "Was so weak and sick that I could hardly raise my head, having constant backache and headache. Two bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicine made me a well woman, and since then it has been my 'Favorite Prescription,' too. Have advised a number of my friends who were suffering to use it, and have been gratified that it has helped all without exception."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It is unequalled as a tonic for run-down, worn-out women.

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Killed in an Unusual Manner.

Bowling Green, Ky., June 28.—Jno. Garrison, a negro, who lived at Rockfield, in this county, was killed in an unusual manner. He was sitting with half-dozen others during a thunder storm, when lightning struck the house, partly demolishing it. It tore a slab six feet long and four inches thick from the house which struck Garrison on the head, killing him instantly. He was not injured in the least by the lightning, nor were any of the others in the house. This makes the third time the lightning had struck the same house within the last sixty days.

Hogheads of the Weed Received This Week.

Sales Both on the Break And on Floor Heaviest of the Season.

Receipts of tobacco this week were 575 hogheads. Public and private sales for the week amounted to 650 hogheads. Finer grades appeared in the offerings, for which there was a good demand. The market was quite as good as last week and all Bremen kinds sold well. All other sorts were quiet and unchanged. Receipts for the year amount to 6,300 hogheads and sales for the year 4,157 hogheads.

The loose sales on the floor by R. M. Woodruff & Co. were heavy and prices realized were about the same as those of last week for the sorts sold. The receipts of loose tobacco continue full and it is estimated that more than half the crop is out of the bars.

The growing crop of the weed looks well but the acreage is far below that of last year.

Several bones were broken and it is feared that he was internally injured. His recovery is a matter of extreme doubt.

WHIPPING POST IN KENTUCKY

Thousand Persons See Negro Boy Lashed at Court's Order.

Lexington, Ky., June 29.—In accordance with Police Judge John Riley's whipping post decision recently delivered, John West, a 14-year-old colored boy, was given 50 lashes in the public square today. His coat was removed and the lad was struck with a buggy whip in the presence of over a thousand citizens.

Injuring private property was the charge against him. This is the second lad to be publicly whipped. The negro population seemed restive while the punishment was being given, and there are threats of a legal test of the decision.

Logan Report Affirmed.

The report of the commissioner in the case of W. R. Logan, the defaulting assignee of the Kentucky Citizens' Building and Loan Association, fixing his shortage at about $39,000 and recommending an at torneys' fee of $6,000 to Clayton B. Blakey and Burnett & Burnett, representatives of the Louisville Trust Company, receiver, has been affirmed by Judge Shackelford Miller. The shortage covered by Logan's surety, the American Bonding Company, was compromised for $37,500. The report also recommended a $500 fee for the commissioner, which was also allowed. This practically winds up the Logan case, so far as processes in the civil courts are concerned. An indictment for embezzlement of $37,500 is pending against Logan in the criminal court. The defendant has never yet been apprehended, though agents of the Bonding Company assert that he is in this country.—Courier-Journal.

By Home Telephone Co., With More Than 500 Subscribers.

All Subscribers Not Yet "Cut In," But Connections are Being Rapidly Made.

The first service over the Home Telephone Co.'s lines was inaugurated Wednesday night, when the company's office instruments were used for the first time.

Early yesterday morning Moynihan's store was "cut in" and the first business house was given the service. By noon the offices in the First National Bank and the Kentuckian office were connected and there was a general rush to try the new service. It worked like a charm. There was no hitch, no delay, no inaudible voice to say "number." There were no wrong connections and no chattering over the line by third parties. There was so cutting off in the midst of the conversation. Persons used to yelling into hello boxes find it necessary to lower their voices to a low tone, so perfectly do the up-to-date instruments work in every way.

The directories are ready and are delivered to the subscribers as fast as their connections are made. All will be on the exchange by next week and then the work of putting in the new ones will be pushed as rapidly as possible. There is going to be a stampede to the new company. Many business and professional men have already adopted it exclusively. The Kentuckian's number is 1221. Call us up when you want to see how your new phone works.

National Magazine for July.

The National Magazine for July opens with a remarkable group picture of eleven distinguished western university presidents. Homer Davenport, greatest of American cartoonists, contributes his very best picture—a labor of love—a zesty and beautiful portrait of his father, holding in his arms Gloria, the tiny daughter of the famous artist. Joe Mitchell Chappell, chatting about affairs at Washington and at the World's Fair, tells how Davenport has won success on the lecture platform.

A curious interest attaches to the group of schoolboy essays written by John D. Rockefeller, Celestia Spellman, (Mrs. Rockefeller) and Mark Hanna, fifty years ago, when they, with Ex-Senators Walcott of Colorado, and Jones of Arkansas, were fellow students in Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Rockefeller wrote on "The Character of St. Patrick," and on "The Recollections of the Past," while Hanna's themes were equally prophetic of his later career. Facsimiles of the essays in the handwriting of Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller are shown.
